WORKSHOP

Motion Theater Daylong Workshop with Nina Wise

"Madly Fun & Curiously Addictive."

Saturday, April 19, 2014

10 am – 5 pm

107 Suffolk St., NY

Motion Theater is a form of autobiographical improvisation that integrates movement, narrative and sound in a form of expression that is wildly uplifting and surprisingly transformative. Both an art form and a spiritual practice, the work leads the participant to experience genuine presence, greater freedom of movement, and fluency with language. The sense of well being that arises can pervade all areas of one's life. This workshop is designed for those with experience in Motion Theater and for those new to the form.
